Alicia Smith and Jenna Greer are identical twins who, at birth, were orphaned and adopted by different families. Incredibly, they grew up just 25 kilometers apart from one another, with each believing .that she was an only child

Some would say that the story of their recent accidental reunion was coincidence. Some would say it was meant to be. Upon graduating from high school, each of the girls chose to study psychology at universities only 2 kilometers apart. While attending university, Jenna kept noticing that strangers would wave and say hello to her. Meanwhile, Alicia's friends complained that she sometimes didn't wave back at them when they saw her on the street. Listen to the young women tell the story of how they .discovered one another

Alicia: A friend of Jenna's came to a study meeting at our dorm when I was twenty. She was shocked by how much I looked like a friend of hers. Of course, that friend was Jenna. She kept telling me that I had to meet this friend. She showed me a picture of .Jenna and gave me her email address

Jenna: After exchanging a couple of emails and talking to our parents, we discovered that we were sisters. So we made plans .to meet

Alicia: The first meeting was really emotional. I thought my heart was going to thump out of my chest. It was strange seeing my ,face on someone else's body. And as soon as we started talking .we both noticed how similar our accents and mannerisms were

Jenna: As we got to know each other, we found out that we'd lived lives that were, in many ways, incredibly similar. It's uncanny how much we have in common. Both of us have been painting since we were five, we both liked horses, we both planned to study teaching, and we had both volunteered at the community .support center

Alicia: But I think the strangest thing of all is that we even have the same recurring dream. One time when Jenna and I were talking, she described the same dream that I've had since I was a .child. I was so freaked out that I just dropped the phone

Jenna: I really believe that we are meant to be together. I think it was supposed to happen now. Not when we're older, or when we were younger and wouldn't have understood. This way we can enjoy each other for the rest of our lives.
